Thanks so much for taking a moment to check out a few sample pages from Viva Las Vegas! We're excited to share a slice of this puzzle-packed adventure with you.

Before you dive in, here's a quick heads-up: Each puzzle begins with a short line of story—part of a larger narrative that runs through the entire book. It follows a husband surprising his wife with a 50th birthday trip to Las Vegas.

So if anything feels a little out of context, don't worry—it all comes together in the full journey. (And yes, we think it's absolutely worth grabbing the whole book to experience it.) This isn't just a puzzle book—it's a lighthearted, story-driven tour of Las Vegas that can even double as a fun, quirky itinerary.

We hope these sample puzzles make you smile, challenge your brain, or offer a quick escape. If they do, we'd love to hear your thoughts! Message us anytime with your favorite puzzles, questions, or ideas for future books.

Thanks again for checking us out—and happy puzzling!

Have a blessed day,

Allie and Brian

As we entered our room, my wife teared up again. The room was great, but the view of the Strip was amazing. It felt like we could see every hotel. Draw a line to match each hotel with its trivia.

TRIVIA

1. They display the largest nugget of gold in the world.
2. "Leo" the 45-foot tall bronze statue weighs 100,000 pounds.
3. They have the coolest roller coaster called "Big Apple Coaster".
4. This medieval castle themed hotel is named after King Arthur's sword.
5. Inspired by an Egyptian city, this hotel's atrium can hold nine 747s.
6. "Oh, sole mio".... This hotel is the sister property of The Palazzo.
7. They have a replica of the Eiffel Tower. It's one half the size.
8. Never mind the fountains, their glass sculpture in the lobby is amazing.
9. This rebranded hotel is a dead ringer for what used to be Bally's.
10. Owner, Benny, was the first to introduce free drinks to players.
